HANFORD QUILTS JOB UNDER FIRE

SEATTLE FEDERAL JUDGE RE-
SIGNS AS CONDUCT CHARGES
ARE BEING PROBED.

HEARINGS DISCONTINUED

Jurist Tried for Revoking Citizenship of Socialist Is Alleged a Drunkard.

By The Associated Press.
Seattle, Wash., July 22.—United States District Judge C. H. Hanford, the first federal judge appointed when Washington was admitted to statehood 33 years ago, sent his resignation today to President Taft while the last witnesses were waiting to testify before the house judiciary sub-committee, which has been hearing evidence relative to charges of misconduct filed against Judge Hanford.

At the time set for the hearing this morning a series of conferences between the sub-committee and Judge Hanford's attorneys were begun. The proposal that the judge resign and the hearing be discontinued was submitted by Judge Hanford's attorneys and accepted. The judge sent his resignation by telegraph to President Taft at 10:25 o'clock.

Hearing Discontinued.
At the same time Chairman Graham of the sub-committee sent a telegram to Chairman Clayton of the house judiciary committee telling him of the change in the situation and recommending the hearings be discontinued. This was done by a message from Chairman Clayton.

Judge Hanford's chief counsel, E. C. Hughes, said after the resignation that the judge had desired to resign for several weeks, but could not do so with no evidence heard. The judge and his friends, according to counsel, are satisfied with the showing made at the hearing, which they say did not sustain the charges.

Hanford Explains.
Judge Hanford's statement to the public was as follows:
"Almost constant strain, under which I have worked for more than 22 years, has taxed, but not exhausted, my power for endurance. I am not likely to have a vacation of rest, but a change of occupation will be a welcome relief. I intend to practice law in Seattle."

"In the investigation which has been conducted by a sub-committee of the house of representatives, much testimony has been given by witnesses who know me and others who do not. I am grateful for the commendation of those who have spoken and written in my favor—and as for those who have maligned me, I only wish to say that I would be ashamed of myself if I had not incurred the enmity of such people as they are."

"A judge is never so sure of being right as when his work has been criticized as unfair. Without boasting, in view of all that has and may be said, and concerning myself and my work, I am glad that my record is what it is."

Denounced by Citizens.
Judge Hanford has been much in the public eye since August 23, 1911, when, after he had issued an injunction hostile to the petition of Seattle citizens in a five-cent fare fight against the street car company, he was denounced at a great mass meeting and resolutions demanding his impeachment were adopted.

While the meeting was in progress a crowd hanged in effigy a stuffed figure labeled "Hanford." One of the speakers at the meeting said he had seen Judge Hanford intoxicated in a public place. The speakers at this meeting were arrested for interfering with an order of the court, and some of them were kept in prison several days. It appeared from the evidence in the hearing just ended that detectives were at once detailed to watch Judge Hanford and every move he made was recorded. Several members of congress were consulted relative to beginning impeachment proceedings.

Revokes Citizenship.
During the Industrial Workers of the World demonstration in western Washington last spring, Judge Hanford condemned the carrying of the red flag through the streets. On May 10 he revoked the citizenship papers of Leonard Olson, a member of the socialist-labor party, and the Industrial Workers of the World because Olson, in appearing as a witness for another man seeking citizenship, had said he was "not devotedly attached" to the constitution.

Berger Introduced charges on June 26, accusing Hanford of rendering corrupt decision and of being an habitual drunkard.

Eight supplemental charges against Hanford were filed directly with the judiciary committee of the house by a Seattle attorney. The house unanimously referred Berger's charges to the house judiciary committee, and that body appointed a sub-committee to take evidence in Seattle.

Probe Begins.
The sub-committee began its proceedings June 27, and continued its sessions steadily. The committee called every one who offered evidence. Dozens of witnesses testified they had seen Judge Hanford apparently intoxicated in the court room. Many

JUDGES DECIDE FOR ROOSEVELT

KANSAS SUPREME COURT RULES
T. R. ELECTORS GO ON G. O. P.
PRIMARY BALLOT.

PENNSYLVANIA A TANGLE

Flinn and Roosevelt Discuss Whether to Have Joint or Independent Ticket.

By The Associated Press.
Topeka, Kan., July 22.—In the mandamus suit of the Roosevelt adherents to compel county clerks to have the names of Roosevelt electors on the ballot in the primary this month, the supreme court decided in favor of the Roosevelt friends' contention. Taft adherents had previously secured an injunction restraining the county clerks from printing the names of electors having declared themselves for Roosevelt on the primary ballot. Whether Taft or Roosevelt electors shall go on the republican ballot in the November election probably will be decided at the primaries.

Pennsylvania Progressives Prefer
Joint Electoral Ticket.

Oyster Bay, July 22.—For four hours today Col. Roosevelt and Wm. Flinn of Pittsburgh talked over the Pennsylvania tangle in the formation of a new party. When it was all over it apparently was just as much of a tangle as ever. It was announced that the questions involved have been left open until after the Chicago convention.

Mr. Flinn pronounced it the most complicated situation he ever had anything to do with and without a parallel.

"We will not do anything the colonel objects to," he said. "It is simply a question whether we should have a joint electoral ticket, taking for the Roosevelt ticket as many of the republican candidates as will regard as binding in the electoral college an agreement to vote for the one who receives the highest number of votes, whether it is Taft or Roosevelt."

"That is what my associates want to do. The other proposition is to put up a brand new ticket. Then we should have three classes of men, the Taft candidates, the Roosevelt candidates, who would remain on the republican ticket, and the Roosevelt candidates, who would resign because they were unwilling to remain under such conditions."

The argument advanced in support of Mr. Flinn's proposal is that if all candidates for elector signed the agreement to vote for whichever candidate for president received the larger popular vote, Col. Roosevelt would have the entire thirty-eight electoral votes; if he carried the state, instead of only the votes of the Roosevelt men now on the republican ticket, the number of whom is said to be thirty. It was explained that a potent argument in favor of the joint ballot plan was that it would enable the Roosevelt forces to keep control of the republican organization.

Government Charged With Not Protecting Citizens From Outrage in Mexico

By The Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—In a strong arraignment of the government for its failure to get redress for injuries to American citizens and property resulting from the Mexican war, Senator Fall of New Mexico declared in the senate today that this country could not regain its prestige in Mexico in fifty years.

He said China, Germany and other countries had forced Mexico to make restitution for damages. Thus far, he said, the United States had done nothing. He added that, because of the course of the state department, the people of Mexico believe this country is behind the Madero government, and it was responsible for the overthrow of President Diaz.

"If the people of the United States knew all the facts," declared Mr. Fall, "not all the soldiers in the country would be able to prevent the crossing of the border, because of the indignation that would be aroused. And yet nothing has been done to relieve the most intolerable conditions that American citizens were ever forced to undergo."

Senator Fall urged adoption of the resolution instructing the war department to ascertain the extent of the damage caused by Mexican bullets fired across the American line during the engagements last year at Douglas, Ariz., and El Paso, Tex. He declared the resolution did not "go far enough." He said there had been no word of protest from the American government, although its citizens had been killed, women outraged and over $500,000,000 worth of property destroyed by Mexicans. In this connection he gave many instances and losses inflicted upon American citizens.

After he had admitted he had taken up the matter with the state department, Senator Fall said the president and senate had been apprised of the facts by others. He said the state department had refused persistently to make representations to Mexico, but referred all claimants to the Mexican authorities themselves—"to the men who inflicted the injuries."

Rather'n Be Shot
Man Decided Not to Drown Himself

By The Associated Press.

Dallas, Tex., July 22.—A threat of death, made by a policeman, prevented a would-be suicide here today from carrying into effect his declaration that he was going to drown himself. The man, who gave his name as Joe Jackson, and said he was from Houston, was found standing in four feet of water in the Trinity river. He had previously made an attempt to slash his left wrist with a knife, the officers say.

When Patrolmen Dennis and Williams, who were called to the banks of the river by persons living in the neighborhood, found Jackson he announced to them that he was about to step off into the deep water and drown himself. He was tired of life, he said. Williams drew a revolver and threatened to kill Jackson if he attempted to drown himself. Jackson waded ashore. He was taken to a hospital.

Kansas City, July 22.—Receivers of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad today, acting on the demands of trainmen for the engineers and yardmen of the road in the United States for an increase in wages, refused to grant a direct increase, but promised a betterment of conditions that will result in a wage increase.

The situation was so critical that extra guards were placed about the jail.

HENRY PROPHESES A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

By The Associated Press.

Seagriff, July 22.—Gov. Wilson today drew the shutters of his office, locked the doors and walked leisurely down the steps of the "little white house" porch with a bundle of papers under his arm. A moment later he entered a waiting automobile and was off for seclusion for the writing of his speech of acceptance of the democratic presidential nomination. Seagriff will not see him again until his acceptance address is finished.

DRYS WIN VICTORY
BEFORE THE SENATE

By The Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—Anti-saloon interests won a victory before the senate judiciary committee today when Senator Cummins was authorized to report favorably a bill giving the dry states power to intercept shipments of liquor from "wet" territory.

The bill to be reported is a combination of the Kenyon bill, which amends Senator Andrew's bill. The new measure will prohibit shipments of liquor by any person interested in them into states to violate a law of the state into which the shipment is made.

The new bill would revise the existing Wilson law to meet a recent decision of the supreme court and make liquor an interstate commodity, subject to the law of a single state upon arrival within its boundaries and before delivery to a consignee.

Some members of the committee think the bill unconstitutional and threaten to fight it on the floor.

EMPEROR'S CONDITION CONTINUES IMPROVING

TENSION CAUSED BY RULER'S
ILLNESS RELAXED BY PHYSICIANS' BULLETINS.

By The Associated Press.

Tokio, July 22.—Extreme tension caused by the illness of Mutsuhito, the emperor, has generally relaxed by physicians' reports, which say that, while there is reason to be encouraged, the public must wait a week before assurances can be given respecting the outcome.

The improvement noted Sunday was maintained yesterday, and bulletins by court physicians, which are posted on police boxes and railroad stations throughout the empire, indicated that maladies from which the emperor is suffering are under control at least temporarily. The latest bulletin, issued at 5 o'clock this morning, was the result of physicians' examination made at 3:30 a. m. It stated that his majesty was unable to sleep. The temperature of the patient at that hour was 102.4.

At 3:30 a minister of the imperial household gave out the information that the emperor was sleeping soundly and that his appetite had improved.

For a brief period during the early days of his sickness the emperor was in a semi-conscious condition. Delirium now has disappeared and the emperor's mind has become comparatively clear.

FIVE NEW BATTLESHIPS

Naval Preparations of Kaiser Are Asserted to Be Unexampled and a Menace.

By The Associated Press.

London, July 22.—Introducing a supplementary naval appropriation bill in the house of commons today, Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, declared the effect of the new German naval law would be to maintain nearly four-fifths of the kaiser's entire navy in permanent commission, ready for instant war.

"Such preparation," said Mr. Churchill, "is remarkable, and as far as I am aware, finds no example in the previous practice of modern naval powers."

The British shipbuilding program, Mr. Churchill then announced, provided for five battleships to be constructed next year and four battleships in the next following four years.

Extremely Formidable.
The appropriation is for $50,000,000. Naming the ultimate scale of the German fleet, the first lord of the admiralty declared it would be "extremely formidable" and the only way to meet it, he said, is "by cool, steady and methodical preparation in view of the succeeding years."

Mr. Churchill pointed out that the increased fighting power of the Germans involved reorganization of the British forces that a necessary margin of safety might be maintained. He announced that he intended to raise the number of battleships in full commission from 28 to 32 by 1915. From 1914 onwards, Great Britain will have five battleship squadrons, totalling 41 ships, and four squadrons will be in full commission. Thus Great Britain will have 23 battleships, against Germany's 23. This might not be considered a very satisfactory proportion, Mr. Churchill said, but adding, in regard to the character to the different vessels, the admiralty was of the opinion that 35 battle ships would be adequate for the needs of 1914-15.

To Add to Personnel.
Mr. Churchill promised large additions in the personnel every year, as well as extra submarines and light cruisers. Regarding the Mediterranean, he said any attempt to confine British naval supremacy in any particular waters would be not only false strategy, but bad politics. The Gibraltar fleet of four battleships, the speaker said, would be increased to eight. Six old battleships would be withdrawn from Malta and replaced by four battle cruisers of the invincible type and quality.

The armored cruiser squadron there was to be strengthened by the addition of a submarine flotilla. Mr. Churchill said new torpedo boat stations were to be established at Alexandria. The first lord declared he had heard one of the Mediterranean powers contemplated another considerable naval program, so it was not unlikely that the British Mediterranean squadron would have to be reinforced in 1916. Mr. Churchill stated he should be authorized by the Canadian premier to say that any step Canada might take should be directly to strengthen the naval forces of the empire.

Expenditure Necessary.
Premier Asquith declared the increased expenditure necessary to maintain the security of our shores, of our dominions and of our commerce and to insure the peace of the world. We are most reluctant competitors in this naval rivalry, which was not provoked by us."

The premier emphasized that the vital interests of Great Britain would be guarded in the Mediterranean and a much stronger force be placed there. The house, he said, might rest assured that next year's naval estimates would not fall short in providing everything necessary fully to safeguard British interests.

James Ramsay MacDonald, labor member from Leicester, said neither Germany nor Lioecaster could stand such a strain on their finances, and said British laborites would join the laborites of Germany in opposing the constant increase in naval appropriations.

Charles Boreford criticised the naval appropriation as insufficient. He prophesied that the country would go on adding more ships each year, but not enough—just sufficient to induce Germany to follow suit until war came.

WILSON TO REPLACE
APPOINTMENT APPLE TREE

By The Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—The famous old apple tree near Appomattox Court House, Va., under which Lee surrendered to Grant, long since carried away piece by piece by souvenir hunters, is to be replaced by a tree planted by Governor Woodrow Wilson. Col. George A. Arms, United States commissioner of the Appomattox farm, has returned to this city from a visit to Governor Wilson at Seagriff, with the news that the democratic presidential nominee had accepted an invitation to visit the historic place to plant the new tree within the next few weeks.

MAYOR MACKAY EXTENDS WEL-

CATECHISM.

Speeches at Katy Park and Water-for Visitors.

From this time on there is a catechism that must be taught to every citizen who passes through Waco, and they must be made to learn it. It shall bear the name of "Mackay's Catechism," being originated by the mayor of Waco in his talk to the visiting farmers who are touring the state with the Farm and Ranch party. He put it this way:

"If anybody asks you which is the largest town on the largest river in Texas, your answer must be, Waco at the head of navigation on the Brazos."

"If anybody asks you where is the city with the best paved streets and alleys in the state, you must answer Waco."

"If anybody asks you where dwell the most beautiful women in the world, you must answer Waco."

"If anyone asks you where the birds sing sweeter and the flowers bloom prettier than anywhere in the world, you must answer in Cameron Park, Waco."

Welcomed at Waco.
Mayor Mackay extended the word of welcome for the city of Waco to the members of the Farm and Ranch tour at Katy Park last night, where the feast of watermelons was served. Harry M. Baine, president of the Waco Automobile club, was master of ceremonies, and introduced the mayor first. Just as the mayor began his talk Chief A. M. Prescott of the Waco fire department rode into the park with the auto chemical engine and made as much fuss as if the house had been afire. He was loudly applauded. The mayor said a number of nice things, but his catechism caught the crowd, and everyone learned it. They can recite it now in chorus and it will go out as the gem of the mayor's speech.

Judge Tom L. McCullough made an address of welcome on behalf of the county, and called attention to the 275 miles of good roads that are in the county's limits, and emphasized the fact that the roads were built by the citizens without a bond issue or a tax levy. He spoke to the visitors as "men on a mission," and said McCullough county was glad to have them here to preach the gospel of good roads.

Holland Idea Makes Good.
Frank P. Holland Jr. of the Farm and Ranch was introduced. Mr. Holland was the original idea man in regard to this tour of farmers and ranchmen in automobiles. He told how everyone laughed when he suggested that such a run be inaugurated, but that now they see it can be done. He said Texas has the most progressive farmers and ranchmen on the face of the earth, and that this tour will be worth a lot to Texas.

J. C. Doyle, industrial and agricultural commissioner of the Cotton Belt made a short address in which he gave some interesting statistics about the road improvement movement throughout the country.

George W. Baker, president of the Texas Automobile club, next spoke. Captain Baker is an enthusiastic on the good roads movement, and he was applauded. He is well known here, and the people like him. He has done more to bring the touring parties into existence in the past two years than anyone.

Road Building Expert Speaks.
Robert J. Potts, professor of highway engineering of the A. & M. College of Texas, who was another of the speakers, called attention to the importance of this tour because it has brought together the men who live on the roads, and said: "It shows that the automobile is beyond the stage of joy riding, that it is a utility for the farmers who pay for the roads and who must use them. The rich men who tour the country in luxurious leisure do not affect the road situation. The people of Texas cannot afford to spend millions of dollars to benefit the joy riders. The roads that are to be built are for the benefit of

Breeding into Waco, first night control, in regular joy riding fashion, twenty-four of the twenty-six entries in the farmers and ranchmen's reliability auto run had arrived yesterday afternoon from Dallas and had parked their cars by 4:50 o'clock. All had perfect scores. In addition, seven other cars, carrying officials and non-contestants, had also arrived.

A better day for the beginning of the run could not have been secured, not even if made to order. A rather stiff breeze was blowing from the south, the roads were good and the crowd was a jolly one. The first car left Dallas at 9:30 a. m. The tour is in the interest of good roads.

A. A. Directing It.
The reliability run, under the direction of the American Automobile association and under the auspices of the Farm and Ranch of Dallas, offers to the winners a silver cup thirty-seven inches high and about $2500 in cash prizes, in addition to a number of other awards which will be made by the various automobile companies represented in the tour. Pictures of the cup adorned many of the cars yesterday and the drivers of a number of machines have already spent the money. The cars were all flying yellow and black pennants with the name of the tour in bold letters, and in addition many of the individual machines were flying pennants of their own. All the entries were also numbered to enable the officials to properly score them.

Farmers Good Chauffeurs.
Making the tour are many prominent Texas automobile enthusiasts, but the entries in the run, those who have a chance at the prizes, are farmers and ranchers who own and drive their own cars. And some of those farmers and ranchers could open an automobile school and give lessons, for while the schedule is slow, a number were inclined to "hit it up" and "open 'er wide" when a good stretch of road was reached. They use cars for business—and for pleasure, too—and they are on to all the "kinks" in the business. A few carburetors failed to work properly yesterday, but jobs with a screwdriver always effected a "cure."

No Punctures First Day.
Not a puncture was reported last night, and if one had occurred during the day, none of the other tourists saw the unfortunate driver making repairs. Only one untoward incident occurred during the day. That was just south of Waxahachie, when Beck and Jude, in the absence of better names, turned a buggy turtle, but not much damage was done. The most serious trouble was that experienced by J. N. Colwich of Norse, Texas, driving a Mitchell. Engine trouble delayed him. A Brush, entered by W. C. Christian of Milford, also failed to arrive on schedule time.

No. 13 Shunned.
Search for entry 13 in the race tour will avail nothing, for it isn't there. No one would have it, and the number was left in Dallas yesterday morning. The "skidoo" car, No. 23, a Hupmobile, is driven by W. A. Hamilton of Dallas, accompanied by Grady Boren, also of Dallas. "It's a lucky number," said Mr. Hamilton last night.

There are a number of different cars in the tour—Overlands, Fords, Buicks, Hupmobiles, Maxwells, Reos, Chalmers, Hudsons, E-M-F, 30s, Mitchells, Cadillacs, Franklins, Oldsmobiles and Cases. Some of them are battle-scarred and look rather old, just as if a few muddy roads had been experienced and a few cactus trees "hubbed," but "a car's a car for all that." All but two failed to respond yesterday.

Entries in Three Classes.
Entries in the tour are divided into three divisions. Class A1 includes all machines costing under $800, factory list price, and must make an average each day of fourteen miles per hour. Classes A2 and A3 include cars costing $800 to $1200, and must average sixteen miles an hour each day, running time. "Classes A4 to A7 inclusive are cars costing over $1600 and must average eighteen miles an hour, running time. It was considered for a while last night to jump the average time to sixteen, eighteen and twenty miles an hour, owing to the good roads that will be encountered, but the idea was dropped and the same schedule holds good today.

According to that, Austin, second night control, a distance from Waco of 125.5 miles, must be made as follows: Class A1, nine hours and forty minutes; classes A1 and A2, eight hours and twenty-nine minutes; classes A4, 5, 6 and 7, seven hours and thirty-two minutes. In the event the cars fail to come in on schedule, the driver will

Mayor Gaynor Orders Police Depart-

Attorney's Office.

By The Associated Press.
New York, July 22.—"Bald Jack" Rose, Sam Paul, "Bridge" Webber, Wm. Shapiro and Louis Libbey, held for complicity in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, were arraigned today before Coroner Feinberg. The result of the hearing, in which the district attorney went the first scrimmage with the attorneys for the accused, are briefly as follows:

Rose, gambler and friend of Lieut. Becker, whom Rosenthal charged with being his partner, was held without bail for the coroner's inquest Thursday. Rose is said to have hired the "murder car" in which the gun men later went to assassinate Rosenthal.

Others Held.
Louis Libbey, part owner of the automobile, was held for the progress of further evidence, and the case of Wm. Shapiro, chauffeur of the car, was likewise put over to that day.

"Bridge" Webber, the gambler, in whose place in Forty-second street the gun gang is said to have congregated, and Sam Paul, were held without bail until Wednesday.

Jack Sullivan, alleged go-between for Rose and Lieut. Becker, was held as a material witness in $100 bail, which was furnished.

Another equally important development of the day was the entrance into the case of Mayor Gaynor, who ordered independent investigations conducted by the police and the district attorney's office concentrated under District Attorney Whitman.

Five Men Wanted.
Mayor Gaynor this morning summoned Police Commissioner Waldo and instructed him and Commissioner Dougherty to act in harmony with the district attorney. Dougherty at once went to see Mr. Whitman.

A country-wide search for the actual assassins continues. Five men, whose names have been obtained from those under arrest, are wanted. Commissioner Dougherty has admitted that the actual murderers are not in custody.

Lieut. Chas. Becker was today transferred to an uptown precinct, where he will do desk duty.

Houston, Tex., July 22.—The first definite step in the grand jury investigation into police conditions came this afternoon when an indictment was returned in court charging Special Officer and former Chief of Police Henry L. COLQUITT DENOUNCED BY RAMSEY AT TEMPLE

ALSO SAYS LIQUOR CROWD IS LICKED—PLEADS FOR WHITE MAN'S PRIMARY.

Special to The Morning News.

Temple, Tex., July 22.—W. F. Ramsey, candidate for governor, spoke here tonight to a crowd of 500. Mr. Ramsey confined his speech to a plea for his own election and an attack on the record of Gov. Colquitt. He declared that he is fighting for a white man's government and that "this great crowd, which used to be called the enemy's country, shows that the liquor crowd is licked and I don't need to make any speech." He said he spoke at Manor and "there were 538 men in the crowd and 500 were for me."

"I wish I had a picture of this crowd," he continued. "I think if I'd show one to that crowd they'd quit inviting negroes into the primaries. Wolters said he has asked no negro's vote in south Texas. He's doing his part to prevent it, and I say it with pleasure to the credit of the colonel." He then called upon all of the candidates for office to enter into an agreement with him not to have any negroes vote in the primaries and to mail such an agreement to his campaign manager.

Going into the platform, he said he drew a fellow servants' act sixteen years ago, is for an employers' liability act, an eight-hour law, an age limit of 20 instead of 17 years for the public schools, free text books at least in the lower grades. He said he is not astounded to learn that Gov. Colquitt wishes Campbell were running against him; that "he'd rather have almost any one running against him than me."

HATE AND SPITE THE ISSUE, COLQUITT ANNOUNCES

Special to The Morning News.

Louisville, Tex., July 22.—"Hate and spite and a desire for revenge is the issue in this fight," said the governor tonight. "And the desire for revenge has been smoldering in the heart of Tom Campbell, Dr. Geo. C. Rankin and Wm. E. Ramsey for a long while." This is the issue of the campaign for governor, defined by the governor himself, who is seeking re-election, and the people of Texas have about concluded that this is all that the Cleburne aspirant is basing his candidacy upon in his effort to break down the time-honored precedent of according to a second term to those who have kept the faith and fulfilled the duties of that office.

TENNESSEAN MENTIONED FOR PURE FOOD EXPERT

By The Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—With the field of candidates for the post of federal pure food expert narrowed down to less than half a dozen men, the name of Lucius P. Brown, pure food commissioner of Tennessee, is among the most prominently named of those under consideration. An appointment, it is expected, will be soon made.

DESTRUCTION OF SENNACHERIB.

The Assyrian came down like a wolf on the fold.

And his cohorts were gleaming with purple and gold.

And the sheen of their spears was like stars on the sea.

When the blue wave rolled nightly on deep Galilee.

Like the leaves of the forest, when summer is green.

The host with their banners at sunset were seen.

Like the leaves of the forest, when autumn hath blown.

That host on the morrow lay withered and sown.

For the angel of death spread his wings on the blast.

And breathed in the face of the foe as he passed.

And the eyes of the sleeper waxed deadly and chill.

Their hearts but once heaved and forever grew still.

There lay the rider, distorted and pale.

With the dew on his brow and the rust on his mail.

The tents were all silent, the banners alone.

The lances uplifted, the trumpets unblown.

And the widows of Ashur are loud in their wail.

The idols are broke in the temples of Baal.

And the might of the Gentile, unsmeared by the sword.

Has melted like snow in the glance of the Lord.

DEFICIT, MAY RAIL PORTION

LEADING ROADS OF STATE IN HOLE FOR MORE THAN
MILLION FOR MONTH.

EXPENSES INCREASING

Lack of Funds Holds Down Disbursements for the Needed Improvements.

Special to The Morning News.

Austin, July 22.—According to a compilation of the reports of 31 of the leading Texas railroads made by Colonel H. G. Askew, statistician, May was a "dead sea fruit" month with Texas railroads. To be exact, the 31 leading Texas roads had a deficit of $1,118,716.94 as the result of that month's operations.

Analyzed, this deficit was created by conditions over which the roads had no control. While the compilation shows a substantial increase in operating revenue, it also shows a staggering increase in operating expenses and fixed charges, such as taxes and the like.

The 31 roads for the eleven months' period, ending May 31, enjoyed an operating revenue $2,993,472.51 greater than was the case for the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year, while on the other hand the same 31 roads had operating expenses $3,457,058.95 more than they had for the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year. Other income than operating revenue of the 31 roads shows considerable improvement for the period ending May 31 last, being $634,204.19 greater than it was for the same period of the preceding fiscal year.

Taxes, rents, hire of equipment and the like, all being charges that must be met, ascended in great volume, when compared with the eleven months ending May 31, 1911. In all, these deductions from the income of the 31 roads aggregated $3,562,073.94 more for the eleven months ending May 31 last than they did for the same period ending May 31, 1911. Lumping these fixed charges against the properties it is found that exclusive of the sums spent for additions and betterments the 31 roads had a deficit of $1,491,805.34 on May 31 last, whereas on May 31, 1911, the same 31 roads had a surplus of $1,809,650.94.

Lack of funds held down the expenditures for additions and betterments. For the eleven months period ending May 31, 1911, the 31 roads spent for additions and betterments $7,028,673.91, while during the eleven months period ending May 31 last the same roads spent only $5,833,284.07 on additions and betterments. Deducting the cost of additions and betterments from the net corporate income of the 31 roads, the compilation shows a deficit for the period ending May 31 last of $1,067,34 greater than was the deficit on May 31, 1911.

GOOD ROADS TALK

the business interests of the state; they are to make more convenient the transportation of the products of the farm to the marts of trade and are to be a facility in the carrying of the necessities for the farm home to the homestead. The automobile is the most useful thing invented since the railroad train. This idea of Mr. Holland's to have a tour of real farmers over real roads is an epoch in the affairs of the state. Mr. Holland is bringing out the men who will be an influence and argument for good roads.

Automobile for Usefulness.

Mr. Potts emphasized the origin of this idea for the tour of farmers and ranchmen in the office of the Farm and Ranch, and told that Mr. Holland had put up his money to make it a success. "But he deserves no credit for spending the money," said Mr. Potts. "Any man who has got money can spend it, but Mr. Holland deserves credit for having the nerve to originate something which everyone believed would fail to materialize; he deserves credit for the nerve to start something new, and now that he has started this new thing and it has been a success, he ought to have all the applause for it that we can give him. This tour of the farmers and the ranchmen is the dividing line between joy riding and the real usefulness of the automobile."

After Mr. Potts, Homer D. Wack of Stamford spoke and commented on the improvements in Waco since he left here five years ago.

The next speaker was the negro attendant, who cut the watermelons. He said, "Have a piece of McLennan county melon." He was not applauded. The fellow in front of him reached for the melon.

It was a delightful entertainment and was enjoyed.

REV. E. L. WHIDDOON PASTOR AT HUMBLE

AND A SUCCESSFUL REVIVALIST, TALKS ON PLANT JUICE—HOW HE WAS ATTRACTED TO IT.

Rev. E. L. Whiddon, a popular and well known Methodist minister of Humble, Texas, told the Plant Juice man the following:

"You can say for me that I am of a very bilious temperament and subject to attacks every spring. This spring I seemed more debilitated and depressed than ever before. I am considered a hard worker, but I became listless and had no vigor or energy. I read of the experience of the Rev. Wright of Galveston with Plant Juice, and resolved to try it, and can conscientiously say that it has destroyed the lassitude and tired feeling and filled me with energy and strength. I have waited until I was sure that Plant Juice was helping me before making this statement. It is surely a great treatment for the liver and the best of vitalizers."

When you try Plant Juice you will get immediate benefit. When we say this we mean your appetite will improve, you will digest better, sleep better, and you will lose that feeling of depression and feel more confidence in yourself if you suffer with kidney, liver or nerve ailments; you will feel them gradually vanish. Try Plant Juice. You will find it does all and more than we claim for it. For sale at Old Corner drug store.

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, July 22.—There must be a full third party ticket in Illinois, with candidates favorable to Colonel Roosevelt, declared Senator Dixon today. It would be folly for Colonel Roosevelt to attempt to run merely for the electoral vote, because that would be only a "moral protest and not a campaign," said Mr. Dixon. MOTOR PARTY FOR DALLAS LEAVES MONDAY MORNING

The first event in local society found Miss Frances Boddie off for her first overland trip in her handsome new car. She, with her guest, Miss Sara Hobson of Dallas, Miss Greta Williams and the chauffeur made up the party. The young ladies will be guests of Mrs. Dollie Hobson Shelton for a few days. Miss Hobson does not return to Waco.

PLEASING MESSAGE COMES FROM FORMER MISS MARY DAY

During her recent trip to Tennessee, Mrs. Allan Sanford spent a day with Mrs. Harry Crennan in Memphis. Mrs. Crennan formerly was Miss Mary Day, a very popular visitor to Waco before her marriage. Mrs. Sanford brings the pleasing report that Mrs. Crennan is beautifully housed, and, what is to the great pleasure of her friends, she is pursuing her music study. Her voice was much in demand here and is now even more pleasing and cultivated.

SOCIETY HAS NEW HOMES; MANY SUMMER CHANGES

When the new season opens, there will be much to note by way of change of residence. Some have built, some have bought, some are to build, while still others some, as Shakespeare phrases it, are to have their homes freshened. Some who board are to keep house, and thus it goes. With all the additions which are reported daily, and these changes, the home comes from summer wanderings will have much to do to locate themselves and their friends.

WOMEN WELL REPRESENTED AT BUSCH PARK BARBECUE

Along with the other features which made the automobile barbecue at the Busch park the great success that it was, the presence of so many women was included. From the hundreds men there was found nearly the same number of women, and charming women, too, who added their full quota of the merriment. It is now an item in automobile features that the women will be included. The affair at Busch park, so the auto drivers say, was only the beginning of these social courtesy drives.

WOMEN JOIN EXCURSION ON NEXT THURSDAY

And the last shall be first and the first last," says the Good Book. It is the last of the trades excursions which will find the women enlisted, but with the next season their enthusiasm and boisterous spirit will make them first in these enjoyable one-day trips. Frank Trau and his associates are inviting the women to accompany the men in the trip to Giddings on Thursday and many are accepting. Stops will be made at all the intervening stations and much by way of pleasure will be added to the business feature in the trip.

FORMER WACO GIRL READS FOR NEW YORK 400

It is now heard that a former Waco girl, Miss Mary Windsor, has come into prominence as a public reader. Even more than that, her talent has taken her into the most exclusive homes to furnish programs. Mrs. Windsor was for many years a modiste in this city. She now lives in Houston. The young daughter was "discovered" by the foremost teacher of voice expression in New York City. He saw at once the possibility of his subject, and developed her talent without charge. The New York exclusives now pay Miss Windsor to contribute to their parlor entertainments.

M'Lendon-Martin Camp Is THE IDEAL SUMMER HOME

Mrs. Abner McLendon and Mrs. Clarence Martin are taking summer life in ideal fashion. Each has her private shack, and the two a common dining room, out on the banks of the Bosque. There are screens and other home comforts, a private bathing pool, and much else to create the ideal summer resting spot. The automobile, with its fresh supply goes out every night. A man cook has been engaged. Mr. Martin and McLendon drive out every evening for the night. On Saturday the allurements proved too much for Mrs. J. S. McLendon, so she closed her Austin avenue residence and literally took to the woods. It is now the intention of the party to continue this ideal simple life until cooler weather comes.

AUTOMOBILE ETIQUETTE IS BEING DISCUSSED

The request comes from a man who drives his own car that something be said in extenuation of the hat tipping and other courtesies practiced elsewhere. This is more than timely. As with every other innovation in life, there must come an intelligent understanding. Decry society, as some do, it is nothing but the mingling of human beings and a consequent courtesy and intelligent mode of procedure. The coming of the telephone has almost revolutionized the sending of cards, answering of invitations and such. The presence of the automobile eventually will make like changes. Take one instance only—that of raising the hat. From time immemorial it has been considered unpardonable in a man to pass a woman without this recognition. If he drives his automobile, that is a physical impossibility. It will soon be considered perfectly proper for a man to recognize his woman friends by a nod and a smile. Another instance is the alighting from the car. In the former days of buggy riding the man was denounced who did not alight and assist the woman. The automobile's structure precludes this. The step is roomy, low and altogether suitable for the woman to alight without inconvenience. The man simply reaches back, unfastens the door and shows courtesy without leaving his wheel. The etiquette of the automobile is not yet published, but the code is forming and the time is not far distant when it will be practiced by polite society.

SOCIAL LIFE MEANS STUDY; SOCIETY FORM IS A FINE ART

It is a sadly mistaken idea for a woman to feel that if she can wear correct clothes, and perhaps place a dinner party properly that she is entitled to a position among the social elect. To mingle in the highest circle of the social world is to know society as a fine art. It is true the foundation of all social intercourse wherever it is practiced is the golden rule mixed with common sense, yet there is that sympathetic appliance of the golden rule which all women do not have. Take but one phase in social life—that of remaining with the hostess during her receiving hours. Waco is not alone in this, but there is not one in twenty who has any conception of what such a duty is. If she has, she does not make it manifest. A hostess entertains. She may be the mother of a daughter just married; she may be presenting a debutante daughter; or she may be receiving in honor of a visiting guest. Whatever it may be, that hostess has but one station, that is beside her honor guest. She is thus rendered helpless in looking after those small attentions which insure the success of her affair. This should at once be assumed by those whom she requests to remain with her. She should select the women whom she feels especially fitted for the duty which she requests them to assume. She should plan every detail towards a finished conclusion.

Once invited to assume this pleasant duty, each member of the receiving party should feel that her own pleasure is obliterated and it is her social duty to look towards the success of what her hostess has planned. Just to make it plain that many women do not respond as they should, let these questions be answered: How many when they enter the home a few minutes before the arrival of guests go at once to seek the hostess and ask for assignment and explanation of what the duty is? How many attend only to this duty? How many merely attend as any other guest, reaping all the enjoyment possible? How many, in departing, go to the hostess and thank her for the distinction given? How many, to sum it all up, think of others and not of self? It has been noted many times that a woman shown this preference by the hostess appears, takes a stand, receives all the attention which she can command, and not so much as introduces or greets a stranger. Society is not the place for a selfish woman. The hostess has imposed a trust and it is the duty of each one in whom she imposes it to meet the responsibility and make the occasion one of smooth, easy condition and enjoyment.

Society Personals.

Mrs. S. M. McCashan of Sanger avenue, is at home from Wootan Wells. Mrs. J. G. Kendall and Miss Margaret Kendall of the south side, have returned from their sojourn at Wootan Wells. Mayfield of Dallas, with her little daughter, is visiting in the home of her uncle, J. W. Barnett, on Provident Heights. WON'T IMPEACH JUDGE.

No Further Action Likely to Be Taken Against Hanford.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, July 22.—Chairman Henry R. Clayton of the judiciary committee tonight announced the committee would not consider further impeachment proceedings against Federal Judge Hanford of Washington, who today resigned.

In a statement Chairman Clayton said that while congress had power to try a judge for impeachment even after he has resigned, he did not believe the course necessary in this case. Chairman Clayton instructed the sub-committee now in Seattle taking testimony to discontinue its work. Concluding his statement, Mr. Clayton said:

"The main object of impeachment being to get rid of an unfaithful officer, and it had been accomplished in this case by the resignation of Judge Hanford, I take it that no president will ever appoint him and no constituency would ever elect him to any office of honor or profit. Of course there will be no formal action on the part of the committee of the judiciary until a report is made by the sub-committee."

TELLS TALE OF ABUSE BY MEXICANS

AMERICAN FARMER AT CASAS GRANDES THREATENED WITH SPANKING WITH A SWORD.

By The Associated Press.

El Paso, Tex., July 22.—Samuel Miller, an American farmer at Casas Grandes, Mexico, arrived here today with a story of bold abuse by the rebels. Approached by Major Melendez Alvarez, who brandished a sixshooter in his face, Miller was forced to give up his horses and possessions to the amount of $700. He had refused at first, but Alvarez poked his pistol into Miller's ribs several times, threatening to shoot Miller, whose home was once in Fort Worth, Tex. He informed American Consul Edwards of Juarez today that although the incident took place a week ago he was prevented for several days from leaving Casas Grandes by the rebels.

"I'll take you out and shoot you if you make any report about this" is what Miller declares General Salazar said to him when he appealed for protection. Miller adds that Salazar threatened to whip him with a sword if he took the Mexico Northwestern train at Casas Grandes. In despair Miller made him way by a circuitous route to the American border at Columbus, N. M., on horseback. Many other Americans, according to Miller, have been robbed in the Casas Grandes region.

be penalized. Making time on time is the only requirement in the tour, for it is a reliability run.

Officials Have Cars.

Officials of the tour include Referee George W. Baker, who is president of the Dallas Automobile club, president of the Texas Automobile association and secretary of the Good Roads association. In his car, driven by Joss B. Hingworth, who has accompanied three Glidden tours, are Dr. W. C. Rice of the technical committee and R. J. Fotts, professor of highway engineering at the A. and M. college of Texas.

In pilot car No. 1, also known as the "confetti car," owing to the throwing of strings of paper to mark the road, are C. L. Anderson, official logger; E. Munger and Milton Everett, the official press representative of the Farm and Ranch. In pilot car No. 2, the Maxwell Mercury which beat the Ad Men's train through Texas recently, was C. H. Verschovic of Dallas, Tex., representative of the American Automobile association. He was driven by Herbert Kindred. This car will carry Homer D. Wade of Stamford on the rest of the tour. He joined the party here last night. The official starter's car, that of A. F. Cunningham, is driven by E. S. Hardy. It is a Maxwell, the press car, a Hupmobile, carries F. J. Mooney of Detroit, Mich., advertising director for the Hupmobile, and James O. Harris, also of Detroit, a salesman. Holland Misses Road.

F. J. Holland Jr. is traveling with C. W. Hartman of Dallas, Texas agent for the E. M. F., and there's a good story in connection with their trip, for after leaving Waxahachie yesterday morning they missed the road to Italy, and when they discovered where they were "at" Ennis was the sign painted at the railway station. Each blamed the other for going wrong, and each tried to bribe the other not to tell, so the stories go, but the joke leaked out.

Old Car on Tour.

The second automobile ever turned out of the Studebaker E. M. F. factory spent last night in a Waco garage. It is accompanying the Farm and Ranch tour as a non-contestant. The machine was built in 1907 and was sold to James Slaughter of Dallas, its present owner, who makes a sworn statement that the car has traveled 157,000 miles by actual record of the speedometer. Wayne Murray of the Fisk company of Dallas, who gave the tourists water bags yesterday, is traveling in the machine.

The following entries were in the tour yesterday. The first named is the owner and driver, and his guests are of the same address unless otherwise designated:

Order Is Switched.

Car No. 1, preceded by the pilot cars, referee and the non-contestants, left Dallas yesterday morning at exactly 9:20. The rest of the cars were started at one-minute intervals. No. 4 was the first car to arrive at Hillsboro, noon control, where an hour was allowed for luncheon. No. 4 arrived at 12:19 and was followed in order by Nos. 7, 5, 3, 20, 1, 11, 12, 2, 14, 8, 19, 16, 21, 17, 10, 22, 2, 4, 9, 26, 23, 18, 15, 27 and No. 6, which was returned at 1:30, the driver going on through Hillsboro and reaching a point six miles this side before he was overtaken by a pilot car and turned back. The cars left Hillsboro in the same order as they arrived, and No. 3 reached Waco first at 2:54. The others arrived as follows: 5, 20, 2, 12, 1, 5, 14, 16, 11, 4, 7, 19, 21, 10, 17, 15, 27, 22, 24, 6, 15, 26 and 22, at 4:30. Upon leaving Waco at 8:30 o'clock this morning, the first car to reach the starter will be first off, but the numbers will not be changed during the tour.

Roads Good.

So far, the tour has been easy, but the drivers are screwing up courage for the bad roads which are expected to be encountered upon the return trip from San Antonio. The roads to San Antonio, which is the Wednesday night control, are reported to be good, according to the official log, but after that the heavy sands are feared. Upon the return, the tourists will pass through Marlin, but will not come to Waco. They reach Dallas Saturday night.

"Speeding was not under the ban yesterday, and probably will not be during the run if the persuasive powers of Mr. Verschovic continue good. Yesterday he 'fixed things' with officers in all towns and arranged with the various sheriffs and constables not to 'hold up' the tourists. He will go ahead of the tourists today and make the same arrangements, if possible.

One Prospective Winner.

One of the entries who has a good chance of winning the prize cup and the first prize of $500 is O. L. Sims, No. 15, of Paint Rock, who is driving an Overland. He is a young ranchman in the West Texas country, and is accompanied by his brother, D. E. Sims, and T. E. Whitfield. He has had considerable experience with au-

It is in the Class A1, and is required to average only 14 miles an hour, running time. No. 9, the Mitchell, driven by J. N. Colrich, failed to appear early last night.

PUBLISHERS' NOTICE.

The News has been fortunate in securing Fuller, Henrichs & Putnam of Chicago and New York as its foreign advertising representatives. This firm is composed of advertising men who rank among the foremost in the country, who have the confidence of the largest and most general advertisers in the United States. This connection means that the interests of the News will be cared for and vigorously advanced among the western and eastern advertisers. It means also that the big advertisers of the country will have a medium through which the people of Waco and Central Texas may be reached by a morning newspaper.

TOO MANY ELECTORS.

The readiness with which the commission form of government for cities and towns is adopted indicates nothing so clearly as that the people are growing tired of frequent elections and long lists of candidates. Simplicity is the distinguishing feature of the commission idea. The occasions for political agitation which arise where official responsibility is divided and subdivided are absent, there being no army of officeholders to beat the tom tom in the interest of their claims to a return to their jobs, and no opening for numberless seekers after the scalps of the "ins" to disturb the peace and dignity of the voters. This naturally appeals to an electorate which has grown weary of rapidly succeeding calls to elections and growing demands upon its time and attention in the pursuit of political enterprises.

"It is plain enough," the New Orleans Picayune submits, "that the interminable round of political demands on the time of the people is coming to be an unendurable nuisance instead of the blessed privilege that universal suffrage was supposed to confer. That multitudes are becoming heartily tired of it is seen in the fact that many of them will only go to the primaries through the urgent personal claims and persistence of candidates, but they will not go to the final elections, thus shirking the most serious part of a public duty."

It is getting to be so that elections are often carried not only by a minority of the population entitled to vote, but in many cases by a minority of the dominant party. Yet the tendency is towards more elections and more agitation. The people are told that it is essential to the preservation of their rights that there shall be frequent appeals to the ballot and wider scope for the exercise of political talents, and led to acquiesce in a multiplication of the devices for provoking elections under the delusion that the public welfare demands it. The result is always the same. However, it generally transpires that there was no urgent need for adding to the already cumbersome election machinery, and public indifference grows in proportion.

The demand for frequent elections is generally the outgrowth of greed for political preferment. Politicians whose time and energy are concentrated on trying to get in when they are out make a business of creating it. But the people seldom gain anything by falling in with their schemes. On the contrary, confusion and interference with intelligent expression of the popular will is more often than not the result.

What this country needs is simpler methods of government and fewer and better responsible officeholders, rather than a multiplication of occasions for holding elections. As matters stand, it is almost impossible to keep up with the numerous propositions with respect to which the politicians may stage an election, let alone digesting the lists of candidates for office who are continually obtruding themselves on the notice of the voters.

The rapidity with which the commission form of government for cities and towns has grown in favor presages its ultimate adoption for counties and states, and it is probable that the near future will bring a complete change in the methods by which such political subdivisions are now governed. At all events an abandonment of the ridiculously inefficient systems under which their public affairs are being taken care of is due.

It is reported that Captain Smith, commander of the ill-fated Titanic, has been seen alive on the streets of Baltimore. It is very likely that he will appear from time to time in many parts of the country to furnish space-writers with penny-a-line stuff. Charley Ross has been coming around regularly; John Wilkes Booth is often seen, but the man who struck Billy Patterson refuses to be located. Captain Smith died the death of a man of the sea; he went down with his ship, and he ought to be allowed to rest in peace. If his was the mistake which sent the mammoth ship upon the iceberg, he paid the penalty for that mistake; if he was but obeying the iron-clad instructions of the money-loving corporation whose chief representative he was on that maiden voyage of the finest ship that ever sailed the seas, he was a sacrifice to discipline and to averice. But whether he made the mistake or whether the error was that of those higher up, he died as a hero dies, he remained upon the bridge of his vessel, and when she took the final plunge, he went with her, and no one can bring him back to life and activity.

This is the worry season, but don't worry. "Worry," says Professor W. S. Sadler, "may be defined as a spasm of the attention." And he goes on to show us that worry generates actual poisons in the body, which cause gray hair, baldness, hardening of the arteries, domestic and general unhappiness, indigestion—and finally death. This is a gruesome outlook, according to the professor, but in spite of the necessity of saving the country for posterity, in spite of the fear that the hot weather may spoil the crops or the rain may drown them; in spite of the fact that the fruit will waste if it isn't canned for next winter; in spite of the fact that it is the fishing season and you can't go, don't worry. It don't help things any and you know what Professor Sadler says.

It does not matter whether the names of the presidential electors go on the primary ticket or not; it is a cinch that when the ticket is voted in November there will be thirty-six names at the head of it, and those thirty-six will meet later and cast the vote of Texas for Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey. If Texas has the strong influence in the national election as it had in the Democratic national convention, Wilson will go through in a walk.

There will be something interesting in the special edition of the Morning News next Sunday that will be read by every one with the greatest eagerness. There are many here who knew Waco forty years ago and will recognize the names and places; there are new people here who ought to know more of the history of their town. The Morning News will tell it.

There is no doubt the appeal to the Democrats of the South to raise a half million dollars for the Wilson campaign fund will meet with ready response. It is the popular subscription of a dollar that locates the real sentiment of the people. The man who gives a dollar has no ax to grind, his interest being only for good government.

And the Texas commission is going to take a fall out of the express companies and cancel their authority for making joint line charges. Maybe between them the interstate and the state commissions will finally succeed in causing the express companies to get out of business.

New election questions are coming up almost daily for settlement by the attorney general's department, says a dispatch from Austin. And here we have been thinking all the time that the Terrell election law had straightened everything out.

On August 1 a committee will tell President Taft that he was renominated. Suppose he calls for proof?

"AND A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM."

Two there were who had for some years been wedded. One was of the Methodist faith, the other of the Catholic Church of America. The slight difference in belief had not troubled them greatly, still there was not the complete communion which is rightly theirs when two are of the same faith. As yet it had not become "the little rift within the lute which, ever widening, makes the music mute," but the tiny feeling was there, though perhaps most undefinable.

He had to keep up the demands of his church, she of hers, and when Sunday came there was the division of time and attendance between the two to be decided. She naturally thought he ought to give up to her preference altogether, and he, being of strong and beautiful faith, could not possibly do so. Still there was no open difference, but as time went on this variance became more noticeable. She, used to the great deference he always yielded her slightest wish, felt that he should offer to come into her church. Oftentimes when the time for morning service arrived, he left home, going in one direction, and she another way, both alone, lonely and hurt. This went on for some time, till, after the way of families, there came to bless and bind more closely together their affection and love, a dear little babe. With its coming there crept into the mother heart the great desire to have the babe, its father and herself in one fold, there to grow in strength and grace and sweetness of spiritual and sympathetic home life. Calling her husband to her, she placed her arms around his neck and pointing to the babe so peacefully slumbering by her side, she whispered her desire, that of christening the infant—and entering the noble mother church, so broad, so open to all, where they might dwell together in peace and love and happiness, their religion and their churchly life unmarred by ought of difference. So it was again manifested that beautiful saying, "And a little child shall lead them." No wonder He who walked upon the water and fed the multitudes and performed other miracles should have said, "Suffer little children to come unto me," for not only is it true that "of such is the kingdom of Heaven," but when a little child leads the way, mothers and fathers must follow after, and is not that a truly beautiful thought, that a pure, sweet, innocent little one shall show the way?

DEATH OF YOUNG BULLOCK.

The dispatches do not say whether the feat which tradition at the Naval academy demands of a new midshipman, "the climbing of the main mast of the training ship and the transfixing of his cap on the spike which adorns the top," is a regulation of the academy authorities or is a species of hazing which is indulged in by the older cadets of the institution, but whether it is the one or the other, it is to be hoped that the sacrifice of the life of this Texas boy will not be altogether without its beneficent results, and that the attention that is attracted to the traditional custom will cause it to be abolished.

It is, of course, impossible, without congressional investigation every year, to know just what does go on in the academies at West Point and Annapolis. There is an esprit de corps among the students of the two institutions which prevents outsiders from knowing just what is done to the "new boys" by the "old boys"; young men take punishment of any kind in silence from day to day, and even when called on they refuse to divulge the names of their tormentors or to tell the manner of the tormenting. The boys who are spending his second year at one of these institutions gets an idea that he has more rights and privileges than the boy who has just arrived, and the new-comer must "take his medicine" or be ostracized by all other students. If he complains, he is in disgrace, and if he testifies against those who have mistreated him, he finally is forced to leave the institution.

Congress has done everything that congress can do to put a stop to hazing, but man-made laws are useless unless those who are charged with their enforcement have a sympathy with the provisions of the statute. At West Point and at Annapolis, the officers of the institution are men who have been graduated from each of those academies; they went through the "hazing" process when they were cadets, and they believe yet that hazing is necessary to the newly made cadet who comes into the student body of strangers to take his place as one of many; they wink at infractions of the rules and regulations against hazing, and while they do not encourage it, their laxity in law enforcement lends comfort and consolation to those who engage in it.

This has been written under the supposition that the traditional feat that brought about the death of young Bullock of Corsicana, Texas, was a species of hazing. If it is a hazing, then this brutal pastime of the experienced youth in his play with the inexperienced has added another victim to the long list of those who have gone before, sacrificial offerings to a custom as barbarous as the ducking stool, or the burning of witches, and much more brutal than the public whipping post.

If this "traditional feat," as it is called in the dispatches, is a regulation of the naval academy, required by the officers as a part of the training of new-made cadets, then those men who have made such regulations and who fix such requirements are as incompetent to make rules and regulations as are the new cadets to perform hazardous feats which require the greatest skill and care. As well say the medical student should try a dose of poison to educate him as to its effects, when he enters a medical college, as to require of an inexperienced youth, a feat of seamanship that only the most experienced man is capable of.

Congressman Hardy, who appointed this young man, should go into a thorough investigation of the matter, and in the interest of youth who are to be the future cadets, see to it that whoever was responsible for the requirement that resulted in this boy's death, is punished and is given the full limit of the law that is provided for those who are responsible for homicides.

Hazing should be eliminated from every institution in this country. Rules of an institution which put in danger the lives of men and boys should be abolished.

As a delegate to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress, W. W. Seley of Waco, will have more things to tell about his own town than any man who goes to that big convention. He has facts, figures and prospects than which there are no better in this state of Texas.

The continual increase of floor space by the business houses of Waco is an indication of the continual growth of trade. No business house will increase its expense of building except that the business is growing in proportion.

The Dallas News published a picture of a red bandana handkerchief Sunday that is a relic of the Hancock and English campaign. This is not the only time the red bandana has been used. Allen G. Thurman used it as his personal flag when he was a candidate.

That the white man drove back the Indian in order to establish Waco village is a fact and not a tradition. The Morning News will tell the story of pioneer days next Sunday.

This is the week when it is always said the "candidate will shell the woods." It is also the time when you can watch for a fire from masked batteries.

Lemon speculators lost a million dollars by over buying on a false report of a shortage. That is enough to sour any man's disposition.

The "bull moose" can visit Texas during the campaign with perfect safety. This is the closed season for elk under the game laws.

Dig into the desk this week and find your poll tax, and get yourself located as to a voting place, because you will be in the procession next Saturday.

Waco Takes Opening Game, Ninth In-

By The Associated Press.

Houston, July 22.—In one of the worst innings ever played by the home team, the Houston infield and battery tossed away today's game, donating three runs to Waco. The visitors' fielding was sensational and the support given Lohman by Alkin, Tanner and Duguey would have won almost any game. The locals rallied in the ninth but could get but one run on three hits. Score:

San Antonio 6, Fort Worth 4.
By The Associated Press.

San Antonio, Tex., July 22.—In a game featured by free hitting on both sides and brilliant fielding, San Antonio won the opening from Fort Worth here today 6 to 4. The game was won and lost several times, being tied a greater part of the time. Home runs over the fence served to keep the Panthers in the lead part of the way. Fort Worth arrived only a little over an hour before game time, being in a railroad wreck of a mild nature.

Galveston, July 22.—The wildness and unsteady pitching of Harbin in the first inning and the consistent hitting of the visitors gave Austin the first game of the series this afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. The pirates rapped McCuller hard, but were unable to hit in the pinches. The game was slow and featureless, both teams appearing to be seriously affected by the blackworm malady.

MOTORCYCLE RACES
AT GURLEY PARK

One of the big sporting features of the week will be the motorcycle races to be held at Gurley park next Friday afternoon, the 26th. Great interest is being manifested in these races by cyclists in Dallas, Fort Worth, Temple, Waco and other central and north Texas cities. And judging from the number of tickets sold in Waco since the announcement of the races, the public is taking a keen interest in the event. All arrangements have been completed at Gurley park, the race track is in Al shape, and an enticing prize list, cash and special prizes, have been put up for the winners, seconds and third finishers. A number of motorcycle riders of note and with enviable records have already entered their machines and their names in the list of entrants, and many more are expected to add their names before Friday and attempt to break some standing records.

"JOKE" LEADS TO ARREST.

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 22.—Five young men of South Coffeyville are in the Nowata county jail, charged with an attempt to hold up the Missouri, Kansas & Texas train south of South Coffeyville one week ago. Counsel for the men say their arrest is the result of a joke.

It will be recalled that nine shots of nitroglycerin failed to blow open the express company's safe. The robbers fled through a thicket and soon there was heard the chuck-chug of a motor car. According to the attorney, one of the men arrested jokingly remarked to a companion that if they had had ten shots instead of nine, the strong box would have been opened. A detective overheard the remark and the arrest followed.

Officers claim the automobile was traced by a patch on one of the tires.

Lawyer (to witness)—Now then, Mr. Murphy, give us your last residence.

Murphy—Faith, sor, I dunno; but it'll be the cemetery, O'm thinkin'—Tit-Bits.

ASSISTANT CASHIER WAS ALSO
JANITOR; STOLE $14,500

Special to The Morning News.

Geneva, Ind., July 22.—William B. Hale, assistant cashier of the Bank of Geneva, who hanged himself recently, was $14,500 short in his accounts, according to an announcement of state bank examiners. The stockholders agreed to an immediate assessment to cover the shortage. The bank's capital is $50,000.

Hale had been assistant cashier of the bank for 16 years, drew a salary of $65 a month and was the janitor of the banking room, besides having practically entire charge of the business. He owned an automobile and he and his wife lived well, but the bank officials told the examiners they had understood that he had an income from investments.

Fair Maid, 15 Years Old, Tells Court She Registered to Vote

Special to The Morning News.

Los Angeles, July 22.—There was a stir in Justice Summerfield's court when Lillian Haudy, claiming to be but 15 years old, admitted to Deputy District Attorney Graham she had registered to vote at the last election.

"Do you mean to say you swore falsely to your age?" demanded the court.

"I didn't swear at all," was the answer. "The woman who registered me was working for the socialist party. I was a patient at the County hospital. She said all I need to do was sign my name to a blank, and I did so."

Graham produced the affidavit, which was brought into court by a deputy from the registration bureau. He submitted it to Justice Summerfield, who said he proposed to sift the matter further. The paper bore the signature of a "Mrs. Mary E. Bates" as registration deputy.

HAS PHONOGRAPH TO DROWN BABIES' CRIES

Wealthy Connecticut Woman Hires a Man to Play it From 10 p. m. Until 3 a. m. Nightly.

South Norwalk, Conn., July 22.—Miss Sarah Davenport was awakened some nights ago in her handsome home in Wilton by the cries of George Benson's baby. George is a close neighbor of Miss Davenport, but Miss Davenport has no fondness for babies, especially the kind that doesn't know when not to cry, and she decided to get even with that baby and its parents who live in the neighborhood.

So she hired herself into town, purchased a phonograph, and placing it on the front veranda of her home, she started a counter attraction to George Benson's baby.

Promptly at 10 o'clock every night a man, hired for the occasion, puts in an appearance, and from that time until 3 the next morning that phonograph plays—and it plays one tune most of the time.

Benson is threatening to have the law on Miss Davenport unless the phonograph is silenced.

IT COST ONLY $7200
TO DISCOVER AMERICA

Ledgers Found at Palos, Spain, Show That Columbus Made This Outlay.

Special to The Morning News.

Madrid, July 22.—Ledgers recently discovered at Palos, Spain, contain interesting facts concerning the outlay made by Christopher Columbus on his expedition to the New World.

The armament of the little fleet cost 14,000 pesetas. The personal expenses of Columbus and his officers were about 2000 pesetas, and six pesetas a month sufficed for the crew, so that 22,000 pesetas, or about $4400, was spent for the eight months that the voyage lasted. The sum total for the discovery of America, therefore, was 26,000 pesetas, or about $7200.

In spite of the small amount required, however, Queen Isabella was forced to pawn her jewels, it is related to provide funds for the expedition.

TRAVELER COULD NOT
KEEP HER MOUTH SHUT

At Whistle's Teet Her False Teeth Fall Out and Sea Voyage Is Postponed.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, July 22.—The blowing of the all-ashore whistle on the steamship Metaphan, about to cast off for Jamaica, caused a peculiar accident. A woman was following a man up the gangplank. She was a very nervous woman and the whistle let out a piercing blast that caused the sensitive traveler midway the plank to jump.

Her mouth opened involuntarily, the muscles relaxed and out fell a combination of four false teeth, which struck the railing of the gangplank and were broken.

Somewhat embarrassed, she picked up the pieces of her group of necessary ivories, and after a few seconds of reflection on deck, decided to postpone her trip until the New York dentist who fitted the cluster could make repairs.

Her baggage was, therefore, sent ashore and when the steamer blows its horn next time the woman will undoubtedly keep her mouth shut.

BIDS $20 TO BEAT MAN;
GETS WISH; PAYS FINE

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, July 22.—"I would give $5, $10 or $20 for the pleasure of beating you," John W. Davis, 712 Powers street, told Conductor Henry A. Kratz of the Monument street car line a few days ago before beating Kratz over the head with a cane. This morning at the Southeastern police station Kratz showed his scars, and Davis did not deny inflicting them.

The dispute was over a transfer, which the conductor said he was not authorized to give at a certain crossing. Judge Dean said the fine would be $20 and costs.

"Well, I'll pay it," said Davis. And he did.

Huyler's Candies Roll Up $2,104,384 Estate for Widow and Sons

Special to The Morning News.

New York, July 22.—John S. Huyler, the candy maker, who died nearly two years ago, left an estate of $2,104,384, according to the appraisal will filed in the surrogate court. The widow, Rosa E. Huyler, gets a life interest in $500,000 and the sons and grandchildren are the other principal beneficiaries, with the exception of $27,500, which is bequeathed to Methodist Episcopal charities.

The report on the appraisal shows nearly $100,000 worth of worthless notes and over $500,000 worth of worthless stock in various enterprises in which Huyler invested as an act of charity to his friends. The church bequests all go to New York institutions.

THE FORLORN HOPE.

The less conventional bearing of doctors today is, perhaps, symbolical of the fact—for we believe it is a fact—that there is less humbug in their profession than ever there was. The old apothecary was a "great medicine man," said Lord Rosebery. We have a vision of a sort of witch doctor. But it is the merit of the modern doctor that he uses no more humbug than is necessary and desirable to soothe a hysterical patient or humor a hypochondriacal one. The chief point is that he never humbugs himself. He does not claim any virtue or merit, although a profession which does so much "good" might excusably fall into that habit. Imagine the case of a doctor dead tired at night after a long day. He hopes to be able to sit in his arm chair, talk to his wife, and enjoy a smoke. A call comes for him to visit some poor person. He does not know whether the case is really urgent, but it may be. He must not run the risk of refusing to go. There is no question here of his losing a valuable patient through carelessness. From the point of view of profit, it is an opportunity of doing business which every man in every other profession would reject on the spot. But the doctor, just because he is the forlorn hope of humanity, cannot leave the human side; he does what is required of him without fuss or excessive repining, and certainly without calling upon the world to witness what a fine fellow he is. He enforces social isolation of doctors is plain enough to any one who has tried to get a busy general practitioner to dinner. Not a single hour of the day or night is his own, or can safely be said to be his own, in advance.—London Spectator.

Thinking Lover Sick of Her Girl Souses Him in Oil and Sets Him Afire

Special to The Morning News.

Pittsburg, July 22.—Believing that she had been jilted and scorned by her fiance and maddened by his seeming indifference to her pleas when she demanded that he keep faith with her, Susan Conley of Elizabeth poured Carbon oil on James Wall, her lover, as he was sleeping in his home, and then set fire to him.

Wall's right side was burned to a crisp and he was taken to the McKeesport hospital, where it was announced he will die.

The Conley girl was arrested and remanded for court on a charge of felonious assault and intent to kill.

Wall runs a prosperous ferry business on the Monongahela river at Jones Station and is rated as being comfortably fixed. He lives by himself in a small house near the boat landing.

Wednesday afternoon when Wall returned to his home the Conley girl was waiting to see him.

The young woman upbraided Wall for his seeming indifference, declaring that he was trying to jilt her. Wall denied that he had ceased to love Miss Conley and entered the house and lay down on the bed to sleep.

While Wall was in a sound slumber it is alleged Miss Conley entered his room and saturated his clothing with oil and applied a lighted match.

Wall was awakened by the fire eating into his flesh and ran screaming to the street, tearing his clothes off as he dashed out of the house. With the help of some neighbors, who were attracted by his cries, the flames were smothered with a blanket, but not until one side of Wall had been severely burned.

When Miss Conley saw that Wall was likely to escape death by burning she threatened to kill him with a pickaxe if he did not let his clothing burn.

Wall has denied that he had jilted the girl or had given her cause to wish his death.

Woman Cop Robbed of Gun, Star, Puffs, Nail File, Gun and Dollar

Special to The Morning News.

Los Angeles, July 22.—Preparations to provide Policewoman Alice Stebbins Wells with a new badge have been started by the police department following the remarkable theft of Mrs. Wells' insignia of office and revolver, along with her nail file, powder puff, two sticks of gum and $1. Later in the day these preparations were found unnecessary, as the police badge was found in the roadway at Fifty-second and Normandie streets.

The theft was one of the most peculiar robberies ever recorded on the books of the detective bureau. While Mrs. Wells was sleeping in her home at 1449 West Fifty-sixth street, a thief reached through the open window and grabbed her satchel, containing her revolver, badge of office, $1.50 and the ordinary toilet articles usually carried in a woman's purse.

In addition to these things, several letters, relating to the lost persons' bureau, conducted by Mrs. Wells, were found in the satchel.

The toilet articles and the satchel were found a block from her home. Later in the day the other things stolen, with the exception of the money, were found in the street, where they apparently had been thrown away by the thief.

Hundreds of men killed the other night to raise a dam against thousands of gallons of blazing oil, which was rushing down a hillside and threatening to engulf many homes and business places.

Three tanks of crude oil, situated on a hill above this city, were struck by lightning and their flaming contents launched directly at its business center.

Every able-bodied man who could use a pick or shovel at once volunteered and by rapid work raised a dam, which controlled the oil and diverted it into a creek. Many of the men were overcome by heat and the rapid work necessitated by erecting the dam.

HONOR MEMORY OF MAN ONCE JAILED FOR TREASON

Special to The Morning News.

Chepachet, R. I., July 22.—The memory of Thomas Wilson Dorr, who in 1842 attempted to overthrow the Rhode Island state government and who later was convicted of treason, was honored Friday last by the state, when a boulder and tablet were dedicated to him on Acot's hill.

The tablet marks the place where Dorr, as a protest against the restricted suffrage under the old King Charles II charter, entrenched an army of his followers.

COTTON MARKET QUIET, RULING IRREGULAR

CLOSE BARELY STEADY AT A DECLINE OF FIVE TO ELEVEN POINTS.

By The Associated Press.

New York, July 22.—Cotton market was comparatively quiet during today's trading and ruled irregularly, with the close barely steady at a decline of 5 to 11 points. The opening was steady at a decline of 5 1/2 points under scattered liquidation and local selling, promoted by lower cables and reports of better weather in the eastern belt. During the first few minutes active months ruled about 11 1/2 points under the closing figures of Saturday.

A very good demand developed on a scale down, however, part of which was attributed to hedging against forward sales to mills. With the weather map failing to show rains supposed to be needed in the southwest, the market soon became steadier. Buying here against sales in Liverpool and New Orleans helped the rally. During the afternoon prices worked up to practically the closing figures of Saturday.

Around this level offerings which had been very light during the middle of the day became heavier and prices eased off rather sharply at a reaction of 3 1/2 points from the best.

Receipts 3251 against 1726 last week. Today's receipts at Galveston 677 against 680 last year, and at Houston 428 against 582 last year.

WHEAT MARKET IS HEAVY DESPITE RALLIES

CONDITION OWING TO REPORTS THAT CUTTING ON IN NORTH-WEST SHOWS NO RUST.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, July 22.—Reports that harvesting had spread as far north as Minnesota and that except in a few counties the whole spring crop of the United States was practically beyond danger from rust made today's wheat market heavy. Closing prices showed a 1/2c net decline. Latest trading left corn 1/4c down, oats varying from 1/4c off to 1/2c up, and provisions down 1/2c to 15c.

Although frequent rallies took place in the wheat pit, they grew more feeble as the day advanced.

Ideal weather for growth led to active selling of corn. Word that drought reports from Kansas had stopped tended further to weaken the market. Cash grades were in fair demand.

Belief that recent rains had delayed the early marketing of oats developed sentiment and caused an upturn for that cereal. Receipts were small.

Provisions receded on account of the heavy weight of hogs arriving here. The outcome was a setback all around—pork 10c to 25c, lard 7 1/2c to 15c and ribs 7 1/2c to 10c.

The close follows:
Wheat—July 96c, Sept. 92 1/2c, Dec. 95 1/2c, May 99 1/2c.
Corn—July 68 1/2c, Sept. 63 1/2c to 64c, Dec. 56 1/2c, May 57 1/2c to 58c.
Oats—July 44c, Sept. 33 1/2c, Dec. 34 1/2c, May 37 1/2c.
Pork—July 17 1/2c, Sept. 17.50c, Oct. 17.67 1/2c, Jan. 17.92 1/2c.

LITTLE ACTIVITY ON THE EXCHANGE

QUOTED VALUES STAND WITH OUT MATERIAL CHANGE. STEEL FEATURED.

By The Associated Press.

New York, July 22.—Indications of increased influence in general conditions were reflected in early operations on the stock exchange today, but the movement flattened out later leaving quoted values without material change. Pressure against certain leaders, particularly United States steel, Union Pacific and Reading probably was responsible for the reversal.

Steel was the foremost feature, being quite heavily sold after its fractional opening advance. There was much influence and some concern respecting the effect of the steel corporation's move to be issued by the Stanley committee. In the list of special stock the recent activity in the tobacco issues was resumed with gains ranging from 2 to 7 points. A few other securities of relative unimportance also scored advances, but the market as a whole was in a waiting mood.

Bonds were steady, with total sales par value amounting to $1,518,000. United States government bonds were quiet.

FALLS FIVE FLOORS TO PAVEMENT TO DEATH

By The Associated Press.
Little Rock, July 22.—While standing in the window of a dentist's office on the fifth floor of the State National Bank building awaiting an engagement with the dentist, William W. Smith of this city, manager of the Newburger Cotton company, aged 52 years, lost his balance and fell to the pavement below, dying within a few minutes. As he sped downward his body struck a big lamp post, shattering one of the electric globes.

Smith had been in ill health for some time, and it is presumed he became dizzy when he glanced down from the window. In falling his body barely missed striking a young woman who was passing along the sidewalk.

Who Will Be Your Choice?

If you were making the choice for a man to fill an important position in your business, whom would you choose? Most surely you would choose a man who had always been found in partnership with duty and clean principles, a man of experience on the job, a conscientious man who always fearlessly served best your best interests, a courteous and just man. When you vote for a man for office you are helping to fill a position of trust to the whole people. Sheriff Geo. W. Tilley cordially solicits your vote for reelection next Saturday, feeling that he is capable of filling and is filling creditably every duty of the sheriff's office. He opens his record as an officer, as a sheriff, to your scrutiny, asks your investigation, and then, if you find him worthy of your support, to give it to him in your vote next Saturday, in the regular democratic primaries. He will sincerely appreciate your vote.

NEGRO OBJECTS TO A TEN-DOLLAR FINE

Interposes Demurrer When Justice Imposes Sentence for Beating Up Woman.

Ellis Tucker, a negro, was arraigned before Justice Harvey M. Richey yesterday on a charge of assault. Testimony showed that Tucker was responsible for a big bruised eye which Mollie Miller exhibited in court. The evidence was carefully weighed by the court.

"Tucker, I think I'll fine you $10. You had no right to beat up this woman," said the judge.

"I object," said Tucker, who had been a sort of a free lance information bureau among Waco negroes. "Objection overruled," retorted the magistrate.

ENTHUSED OVER THE GIDDINGS TRADE RUN

Y. M. B. L. EXCURSION THURSDAY
TO GIVE COTTON PALACE
RIGHT OF WAY.

When "all aboard" is sounded at 7:30 a. m. Thursday, July 25, for the start to Giddings, the last of the four one-day trade trips, conducted by the Young Men's Business League, with a splendid schedule, stopping an hour and a half at Cameron for dinner and two hours at Giddings for supper, there will, no doubt, be a merry bunch of 200 excursionists aboard, ready to do loyal service in letting the people in the territory know that Waco is thoroughly awake. The Cotton Palace will be given the right-of-way in the publicity stunts pulled off, and there will never be a lack of interest during the entire journey to Giddings and return over the S. A. & A. P.

All are requested to wear the official Young Men's Business League uniform, which consists of a duster and a hat. All those who are minus a duster will be able to procure one at Sanger Bros. The hats will be distributed on the train.

There should be no urging necessary to induce those who have not taken part in the three previous trade trips with the Young Men's Business League, and if you will take time and ask one who has participated in these trips he will quickly tell you of the importance of these trips and the results he gets for his business and to Waco.

The pleasure features of the trip, such as M. B. ice cream, Falkner peaches, etc., have been arranged for. Sandwiches and plenty of Dr. "Pepp" will be on board.

CHRISS' CAFE SERVES TURTLE SOUP TODAY

Today is the day of real green sea turtle soup and turtle steaks, properly prepared and popularly served at Chriess' Cafe. This is the day Chriess will serve you with dainty morsels from the big fine turtle he had on exhibition several days last week, the big fish so many people asked so many questions about. He weighed 198 pounds and was caught in Texas waters. After killing the turtle and preparing its meat for the delicious dishes to be served today, Chriess stuffed its head—a head almost as large as your own—with lemons for eyes, potatoes for a background, lettuce for a collar, and an orange in its mouth, and placed the decoration on his front counter. It has served to whet his patrons' appetites for today's event—turtle soup and turtle steaks.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, will introduce ex-Governor Tom Campbell on the occasion of his speech for Judge Ramsey at the court house tonight. A. R. McCollum of the Waco Semi-Weekly Tribune, will preside over the meeting.

Ex-Governor Campbell is one of several speakers who are stumping the state for Ramsey in a whirlwind finish of the gubernatorial campaign. He has been an enthusiastic Ramsey advocate from the beginning. Local supporters of Ramsey will make an effort to get Cone Johnson to speak here Friday night.

VACATION TRAVEL IS HEAVY THIS SUMMER

Texas Go to Great Lakes, Colorado and the Pacific Coast.

"Vacation travel is rather heavy this summer, and the prospects for August and September are even better," said H. Y. Williams, traveling passenger agent of the Santa Fe, who spent Monday in Waco. He has headquarters at Temple.

The Great Lakes are getting their share of the Texas travel this year, but I believe Colorado and the Pacific coast are bigger drawing cards than ever. Texas people are going to cooler places, and the big cities of the east are not drawing as well this summer as heretofore. However, the travel to the north and east is always heavier during September and October."

WACO PEOPLE DON'T FALL FOR GULF TRIP

Not more than 100 Waco people took advantage of the $4 excursion rates to Houston and Galveston Saturday and Sunday. The railroads are wondering what they can do to make the people feel a longing for the surf. The local agents say the $4 rate is dirt cheap and the people can't expect to ever get a lower one.

Hundreds of north Texas gulf-bound excursionists passed through Waco Saturday night and Sunday.
